Who Is This For?

Coaches, Consultants and Service Entrepreneurs who want to make a difference in the world — and be seen and known for their unique contribution.

What Is It About?

You have a unique message to tell — that can come through stories, images and pure self expression. When you're authentically sharing yourself, these stories will capture your essential genius and express your irresistible essence. Once you're clear about your gifts and can express them in front of a safe audience, you'll be able to expand these ideas into a keynote speech, a longer workshop or material for your website. They will become an integral part of your powerful platform for success.

Instead of being forced or slick, your message will flow from the heart and soul of your authenticity, differentiating you from the crowd. And, even better, you will lose any contraction or anxiety around speaking to groups and replace it with expansive freedom and joy of expression. This will serve you for your whole professional career and be worth the investment of time and money.

Acceptance to this program requires completing an application which includes some guided pre-work. To ensure success, we will work with you on owning your professional excellence. We need to know that you are willing to do what it takes to transcend the fears that keep you from living your professional excellence OUT LOUD.

Workshop is limited to 10 active participants and audience participation by request and approval.

What Are The Tangible Results & Benefits?

- A video recording that you can use for YouTube, your website or as a "stand alone" document for client attraction
- A quantum leap in your confidence
- A strong grounding in your essence and brand
- A new freedom to be an effective, charismatic speaker
